ALERT: Bonds Weakening on Yellen Comments

It's as if traders are surprised to hear things they already know. Bonds were sold in the highest volumes of the day just now when Yellen said she expects a rise in long-term rates as the Fed reduces the size of its balance sheet.

This is common sense--especially for traders and markets, but for some reason, it struck a chord with a few traders.

10yr yields are now up 3.4bps to the highs of the day (2.353) and Fannie 3.5 MBS are down an eighth of a point at 102-17. It's a bit early for most lenders to consider negative reprices, but they can't be ruled out among a select few of the jumpiest lenders.

Update: Buyer Broker Agreement

After requests from real estate companies, a nonprofit consumer watchdog group the Consumer Federation of America has developed a list of factors to consider when creating a buyer contract in preparation for upcoming practice changes in the industry.

CFA released its "Proposed Criteria for Evaluating Home Buyer Contract Forms" on Tuesday. The 15 criteria focus on the contracts' form — whether the documents are readable and understandable — and content — whether they are fair to homebuyers.

- -the document's expiration date (CFA recommends buyers asks for a three-month contract and never sign one longer than six months)
- -the right to terminate the contract
- -the disclosure that compensation is negotiable
- -the broker's compensation clearly stated and that the buyer broker can't receive additional compensation for facilitating a sale
- -that any additional fees, such as for showing a home, will be deducted from the broker's commission if there is a successful sale
- -that the commission is due only if there is a successful closing
- -that buyers have an obligation for no longer than 60 days, CFA recommends to pay a broker who earlier showed them a home they purchased after the contract ended
- -seller concessions paid directly to buyers
- -dual agency not pre-approved by the contract
- -an explanation of how a broker treats different buyer clients interested in the same property
- -that buyers should not be required to first go through mediation or arbitration if they have a complaint
